THE MAN IN THE STREET

After a man reaches the middle age spread and his waist measurement attains 44 to 45 inches, he is absolutely certain that a girl who can make good biscuits and broil a sirloin steak to perfection has a jalli-Curel backed off the boards when it comes to matrimony.

Considering the fact that it will not give a single democratic a post-office, the great democratic victory this week will be mostly spiritual exaltation.

Mishawaka now has a winner shop—it's a new link in the chain of the old town's progress.

The cost of the government will lap up that fifty million British payment in just about four days; so it's no use to get rankers about it.

The girl who delays her acceptance of him until she has ascertained how he stands on the "Own Your Home" plank in the matrimonial platform is a wise woman.

Don Marquis has transferred his flag from the Sun to the Tribune. What makes the columnist move about that way? Surely it can't be for money.

Ham Patterson says the world needs more children because it needs more men and women. If the world needs more real men and women the folks will have to return to the old plan of raising children to be something more than pets.

The most ominous thing about some of the heroes that returned from the war, is that they got publicity through the Indianapolis soldiers' bureau on the eve of an election without money. It would have cost the United States ten billions to equal their military exploits.

Lord, as the light of a new day shines upon Mishawaka, give us a million dollar factory, and make Mel Mix its general manager. We haven't perspicacity to acquire one by our own efforts.

Anyway, Mustapha Kemal has not shown that his ideals of warfare came from Herrin, Ill.

Standard oil is to declare a 200 percent stock dividend on Dec. 1, amounting to $150,000,000. They bore not, neither do they wildcat, and yet we say unto you that even Cressie in all his splendour couldn't slice a melon like that. It must be through the efforts of Dave Guilfoyle that this was made possible.

Schuyler Rose gets the contracts; he'll be darned if we know how he does it.

The next great joy that the Lord has in store for his saints of an imperishable democracy is that of slandering the depraved and devilish Republicans and their wildcraft satellites on Nov. 7. Be at The News-Times office where the fun will start. We're going to get the returns from all parts of the country by radio.

There will be a lot of moaning at the bars of the United States shipping board vessels as they put out to sea hereafter.

The Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey is suing a lady candidate for charging in a public speech that he had been drunk, but we know Esther O'Keefe could never make such a charge against her opponent. We're sorry for Andy Hickey in a way, but know him well enough to believe he will take his licking like a man.

Reform will have to travel a long way before the gent who has "a little" will cease to be interesting to his many friends.

New York city has a 1 o'clock closing ordinance now. But what in the mischief have they to close up.

The expense of feeding Ringling's elephants greatly increases the overhead of the show. That's what the public finds with respect to the expense of feeding the Republican party's elephants. A donkey doesn't need so much hay and never demands peanuts at all.

That's right, boys, if you have a little queen and a couple of fairies in your family, place the acquiring of a home ahead of everything else. It's a refuge in a time of storm, fellers.

If speech is indicative of a person's wisdom it is very proper for us to observe here that Esther O'Keefe made a few remarks the other day about the fundamental of human civilization that confounded more sound sense than anything we have had from a member of congress in ten years.

Great Britain seems to be so accessible to the Daugherty ruling that we fancy the prospect of handling all the passenger traffic heretofore handled by the U. S. shipping board vessels has not broken her heart.

It is all well enough for the young man to be ambitious, but if a home, wife and babies are not in the pathway of his ambition, he is woefully lacking in brains.

It is said the new dry ruling of attorney general has greatly perturbed France, whose ships want to reach our shores wet. Nothing doing. This pertains more than it does France, but we've gotta do it.

The average man's idea of a square deal is one that will so balance matters that he will have only 67 per cent the best of any transaction with his fellowman.

The latest pictures from Europe show Harold McCormick and his singing sweetie loading about their country home in Hungary, but they will move back to the front pages of the American newspapers some time in 1923.

We'll have a Turkey question of our own to deal with shortly.

An Alabama dog betrayed the presence of a big still the other day. The moonshiners will have to ascertain the political leanings of their dogs, apparently. We are coming to the day of intensified politics and morality in the Land of the Free.

More than fifty people attended the football game at Mishawaka Sunday. More than 5,000 will attend the Mishawaka American Legion doings Nov. 11.

The friend of Phil Matz who came in yesterday to wish us well and tell us how many ducks he killed the day before might just as well have remained away. We don't mind hunters dropping in to praise us, but to boast, provided they say it with ducks.

Our Democratic spellbinders are barnstorming in Indiana and particularly in Mishawaka. If there are any doubtful counties, which an unfailing optimism impels us to believe there may be, there are silver linings to the clouds, and we have seen rainbows occasionally and have come near catching two or three.

We do not say that our Democratic prophets in Mishawaka are entitled to be regarded as Truth's noblest paragons, but what they foretell is all so beautiful and inspiring we do think they ought to write it in poetry and have it set to music by George Maurer.

We know that high office was considered a great honor in the past, but we reckon the time will come when politicians who have held office will want to conceal the fact for the sake of their children.

Up to the hour of going to press we have not acquired wisdom enough to comprehend what good earth are automobile records, but we have the doctors, hospitals and undertakers to hear from.

Michigan reports a bumper cranberry crop, and St. Bavo's Belgian fair is going to be the biggest ever. The skies are brightening, boys. Our box of bicarbonate is awaiting the call upon it.

Charlie Kuss is advertising "Old-fashioned Salt Rising Bread." We don't believe it. Bakeries that know nothing about old-fashioned salt-rising bread ought not to play upon the yearning of folks that way. We have never seen that sort of bread in Mishawaka and if there are folks here who know how to make it, they are in hiding.

If a newspaper can't predict a Democratic victory, it ought to discuss the weather and crops.

The Milwaukee Journal says the average life of a five-dollar bill is eight months. We have never had one to live with us any such time as that. Our experience is they pass away in their early infancy.

Some people say it is going to take a big man to fill Lloyd George's shoes, but our notion is it will take a large hat to fill his head.

Speaking of the waste of time, there are too blamed many people in this country wasting the time thinking about hicker.

Regardless of what Conger-Doyles thinks about it, our notion is that the only reporters needed in heaven will be those who know how to report great Democratic victories as the celestial Democracy plies up majority upon majority, while the years of eternity roll.

Lord, make the dream of our town another big factory until we wake up.

"Who am I?" asks Dr. Frank Crane. That's the question that moonshine drinkers ask when they come to.

Our November is doing fine so far, but it is not nippy enough to give a country sausage tang to the appetite. And don't be in too great a rush to "put 'em on."

There are many vacant lots in Mishawaka we'd like to see the single tax idea applied to, if for no other purpose than to relieve the working community of the burden of putting speculative value into them for the drones who build nothing.

Still, it is not the clothes that men are really interested in; but the glorious filling in the clothes.

Miss Ruth Schwabauer is touted as the most beautiful stenographer in Chicago, and really the picture shows her to be as pretty a stenog as ever bit into a stick of gum.

The California hen that laid 324 eggs in one year recorded a wonderful achievement, but that sort of thing will soon break down her health and then nobody will notice her.

Don't measure your life by the matches you parchable to light your cigarettes, you lazy rascal.

Bishop Bristol excommunicates Methodist ministers who use tobacco, and demands that they quit it. Well, just so long as the laity can use it, we say nothing, and sympathize with the preachers.

The King of Flowers! ROSES have been called the "Queen of Flowers," and perhaps they deserve the title. We are sure that the modern chrysanthemum is a regal mate for her!

FROM the great "mums" many inches in diameter to the smaller but just as perfect "pom poms," the family is blue-blooded thru and thru. Chrysanthemums make the ideal gift of flowers during the fall months.
